

ACCESS CHANGES TO MYRTLE EDWARDS AND CENTENNIAL PARKS STARTING SEPTEMBER 2025

Elliott Bay Connections is restoring and revitalizing pedestrian and bicycle trails, landscaping and public amenities in Myrtle Edwards and Centennial Parks. Starting as early as Tuesday, September 2, we will shift the temporary multi-use trail east to the newly improved bike path to accommodate shoreline improvements. Shoreline areas and park space will be temporarily closed until construction is complete ahead of the FIFA World Cup™ in Spring 2026.

Work Zone

Myrtle Edwards and Centennial Parks

Hours and Duration

- Daytime work, 7 AM to 6 PM, Monday through Friday
- Weekend and night work, as necessary to maintain progress
- Construction began in early March 2025 and is expected to be complete before Seattle hosts the FIFA World Cup™ in June 2026.

Construction Activities

- Pedestrian path improvements and shoreline upgrades, including improved access to beach coves, refreshed landscapes and a new children's exploration area
- Construction equipment and vehicles moving in and out of the work zone
- Noise typical of a construction site maintain progress

Pedestrian, Bicyclists and Vehicle Access

- Pedestrian and bicyclist access through Myrtle Edwards and Centennial Parks always maintained via temporary multi-use trail from Olympic Sculpture Park to The Beach at Expedia Group; follow posted signs
- Access to Myrtle Edwards and Centennial Parks' lawns, beaches, exercise equipment and other amenities temporarily restricted through Spring 2026 to accommodate construction activities
- Centennial Park entrance and public parking at Alaskan Way W, near Pier 86 Grain Terminal, closed until Spring 2026; pedestrian and bicycle detour via W Galer Flyover to The Beach at Expedia Group or via the W Thomas Street Pedestrian Bridge
- Existing public restroom in Centennial Park permanently closed. Temporary public restrooms available while new amenities building is under construction

Myrtle Edwards and Centennial Parks

Elliott Bay Connections will restore and revitalize Myrtle Edwards and Centennial Parks, creating a unified experience for park users of all ages and abilities to enjoy the combined 16 acres of open public park space, extending for more than a mile along Elliott Bay. EBC will:

- Repair and enhance pedestrian and bike trails with new lighting
- Refresh landscapes with abundant native plantings, including new lawns, meadows and trees
- Improve public access to two beach coves in Myrtle Edwards Park
- Add a new public amenities building featuring restrooms and a food concession
- Incorporate Indigenous design, plantings and interpretive narratives throughout the park, honoring the Coast Salish people

EBC will restore the beach coves in Myrtle Edwards Park, making it easier for people to touch the water.

The design of the new amenities building in Centennial Park and its surrounding landscape draws on Coast Salish culture.

EBC construction will be complete by Summer 2026, ahead of Seattle hosting the FIFA World Cup™. Work will be done in phases to limit impacts.
